"We first met Billy several years ago at Buddy Guy's club," says Sones de México co-founder and Executive Director Juan Díes. "We were there playing at a Recording Academy sponsored Chicago Blues Festival Kickoff event and Billy asked if he could sit-in and jam with us. I was surprised and delighted when he told us that he knew the traditional son jarocho La Bruja. We vowed that night that we would collaborate some day, and it's finally here!"

Billy Branch adds, "After spending two weeks in Xalapa, Veracruz conducting my Blues in Schools program, I was pleasantly surprised to discover the amount of African influence on

ABOUT SONES DE MÉXICO: The group is Chicago’s premier folk music ensemble specializing in Mexican ‘son,’ a genre encompassing the roots of mariachi music and other regional styles, including huapango, gustos, chilenas, son jarocho, and more. The ensemble was formed in 1994 and soon incorporated as a non-profit organization to keep the tradition of Mexican ‘son’ alive in its many regional forms. As a performer and recording artist, they have developed and popularized many original arrangements of Mexican traditional tunes. Its original work has experimented cross-culturally with symphonic, Irish, folk, C&W, jazz, and rock music, though never abandoning its roots in Mexican son.

The group has released six CDs: ¡Que Florezca! (Let it Bloom) (1996); Fandango on 18th Street (2002); the GRAMMY® nominated Esta Tierra Es Tuya (This Land is Your Land) (2007); Fiesta Mexicana (a children’s album) (2010); ¡Viva la Revolución! (2010); and 13 B’ak’tun (2013).

The organization is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization with a commitment to teaching. The mission of Sones de México Ensemble is to promote greater appreciation of Mexican folk and traditional music and culture through innovative performance, education, and dissemination.
